Last Modified: 25th April 2019

These terms and conditions (Terms and Conditions) are an agreement between you and Citibank Singapore Limited (we, or us) that governs your access to and use of through Google Pay of your eligible Citibank consumer credit linked to accounts domiciled in Singapore (Card, or Cards). The term, Google Pay, shall include the Google Pay branded payment functionality, the Card provisioning functionality, and transaction history displayed. We will determine, in our sole discretion, which Cards will be eligible for use through Google Pay. Please review these Terms and Conditions before you decide whether to accept them and continue with the addition of your Cards to Google Pay. By adding or using a Card in Google Pay you agree to use your Card through Google Pay in accordance with these Terms and Conditions. If you do not agree to these Terms and Conditions, then you must not add your Card to, or use your Card in connection with, Google Pay. Use of Google Pay is at your discretion. You are not obliged to use Google Pay in connection with any of your Cards.

Your use of Google Pay to purchase goods and services with your Card is governed by the applicable terms and conditions between you and us in connection with each account to which the Card is linked (Account). We may allow you to provision a Card on Google Pay before you have activated it. If you proceed to provision and use such a Card on Google Pay, you will be deemed to have accepted the applicable Account terms and conditions (if you have not already done so). The applicable Account terms and conditions are incorporated by reference as part of these Terms and Conditions. You also acknowledge that your use of Google Pay is subject to the terms and conditions set forth by Google Inc. and/or its affiliates (Google) with respect to the use of Google Pay.

ELIGIBILITY / ENROLLMENT

Google Pay is available to cardholders for the purposes of purchasing goods and services with a compatible Android mobile device that contains a secure element (Eligible Device), at near field communication (NFC) enabled merchants that accept Google Pay as form of payment. Google Pay allows you to use your Eligible Device to access and use your Cards to make such purchases in place of presenting or using your physical Card. To add your Card to Google Pay, you must register your Card through Google Pay. You may be required to take additional steps to authenticate yourself before your Card is added to Google Pay, including by providing additional identifying information. By adding your Card to Google Pay, a unique numerical identifier different from your Card number (Token) will be allocated for the purpose of making purchases and receiving refunds through Google Pay. If your physical Card is renewed or replaced close to expiration date or where you have reported it as damaged, your Token in Google Pay will be automatically updated with the new Card information. Accordingly, you agree that your Token (which has been updated with the new Card information) can continue to be used to make transactions through Google Pay even without activating your renewed/replaced physical card and you will be fully liable for these transactions. This updating will not apply when your physical Card is replaced due to a reported loss, theft or unauthorised use. Due to the manner in which Google Pay operates, you may need to present your Eligible Device at a merchant when you return an item purchased using Google Pay on such Eligible Device. We have the discretion to approve or reject the addition of any Card to Google Pay and need not give you any reason for our approval or rejection.

YOUR USE OF CITI CARDS THROUGH GOOGLE PAY

Purchases you make with Google Pay using your credit Card are governed by the Account terms and conditions. Please review the Account terms and conditions for important information on your rights and responsibilities when making purchases. You must keep your Eligible Device safe (including ensuring that the device is not modified contrary to the software or hardware guidelines of the manufacturer) and ensure that where your passcode or personal identification number is required to allow you to use your Eligible Device to access and use your Cards to make purchases for Google Pay, your passcode or personal identification number is not disclosed to any one and you must take all steps and prevent any fraud, loss or theft in respect of the Eligible Device or any Card in connection with the use of Google Pay. If biometric details may be used to identify you or be used to grant access to the Eligible Device to access and use your Cards, you must not save a third party's biometrics such as finger print (biometric information) on the Eligible Device. In the event a third party's biometrics is saved on the Eligible Device, whether now or in the future, and such biometric details can be used to grant access to the Eligible Device to access and use your Cards, you understand and acknowledge that such person, using his or her biometrics, will be able to access and use your Cards and make Purchases with Google Pay using your Cards.

If you enroll for biometric verification such as finger print identity, personal identification number or passcode on Google Pay, the collection, storage, enrollment and access to Google Pay using your biometric information, personal identification number or passcode will be made using the technology on your Eligible Device. Accordingly, when you log into Google Pay and choose to be verified using the technology on your Eligible Device, your finger print or any other biometric information, personal identification number or passcode will be matched and verified against your Eligible Device's technology. Accordingly, you acknowledge that we have no control over the technology on the Eligible Device, the availability, capability, verification method, security and integrity of the Eligible Device and cannot be held responsible for transactions effected using Google Pay and authorised using any biometric information or personal identification number or passcode. You should therefore assess if the Eligible Device's manner of verification and risks associated with such use is acceptable to you.

Use of Google Pay is at your discretion. You are not obliged to use Google Pay in connection with any of your Cards. Accordingly, you agree that the access and use of your Cards on Google Pay will be considered as authorized by you and you shall be responsible and liable for the same. If your Eligible Device is lost or stolen, any biometric information or personal identification number or other passcode is compromised or used or Card has been used through Google Pay without your permission, you must notify us immediately and if we so require, furnish to us a statutory declaration in such form as we specify and/or a police report and/or any other information we may reasonably require. You are liable

You agree and acknowledge that the transaction history displayed in Google Pay in connection with use of your Card in Google Pay solely represents our authorisation of your Google Pay transaction using that particular Eligible Device and does not reflect any post-authorisation activity, including but not limited to clearing, settlement, foreign currency exchange, reversals, returns or chargebacks. Accordingly, the purchase amount, currency, and other details for your Google Pay transaction history in connection with use of your Card in Google Pay may not match the transaction amount that is ultimately cleared, settled, and posted to your Card statement of account. You will remain liable to us for the amounts set out on your statements.

We currently do not impose a fee for using your Card through Google Pay but we reserve the right to impose a fee in the future. Your telecommunications carrier or provider may impose web-enablement, data usage or text messaging fees or other charges for your use of Google Pay.

As a condition to using your Card in connection with Google Pay, you acknowledge and consent to us sending notifications to the Eligible Device which may or may not be the same device as your mobile phone number on record with us. If at any time you revoke this consent, we may suspend or cancel your ability to use your Cards in connection with Google Pay.

Devices modified contrary to the software or hardware guidelines of a manufacturer, including by disabling hardware or software controls, sometimes referred to as jailbreaking are not Eligible Devices. You acknowledge that the use of a modified device to use your Card in connection with Google Pay is expressly prohibited, constitutes a violation of these Terms and Conditions, and is grounds for us to deny your access to your Cards through Google Pay.

We have the right to suspend or cancel your ability to use your Cards in connection with Google Pay at any time and need not give you any prior notice or reason for doing so.

We have the right to impose a limit on the transaction amount charged to your Card through Google Pay. The limit will be such amount as determined by us and notified to you.
